Dear Tom,

This will update you on the jeopardy to the law as I see it and the new moves against it and us.

Some time ago, before these pressured developments in the Ray case, I suggested to Jim that if the judge rules either way we are in a position to file for costs under the amended law and he should be ready to the very day the judge rules, especially if it is against us.

I'm now going to suggest that hensee if he can get another lawyer to do this on a contingency basis. Neither of us can pay for it.

If as I do not expect he rules for us we'll delay.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
